U.S. Doubts Report That Beria Has Escaped Soviet and Hopes For Political Asylum In USA

WASHINGTON (P)—Government officials took a highly skeptical attitude today toward a report—under investigation by Senate agents—that Lavrenty Beria, deposed Soviet secret police boss, has escaped from Russia and hopes for political asylum in the United States.

These were developments in what would be, if true, one of the most sensational cloak-and-dagger incidents of generations:

1. Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) publicly acknowledged for the first time that his Senate investigations subcommittee has received a report that a mysterious figure, in hiding in a non-Communist country, claims to be Beria. He said

"I am not convinced" and declined to say what his subcommittee is doing in the matter.

2. A Senate source said a subcommittee agent who would know whether the man is in fact Beria has gone to contact him and should make a report in a couple of days.

McCarthy told a reporter he would tell him this much on the record:

"I know a man who claims to be Beria and who resembles Beria has shown up outside Russia and is in hiding in a non-Communist country. At this point, I am not convinced he is Beria."

It was the senator's first public statement on the week end reports from a high Senate source that his subcommittee had sent agents over seas to check on the story.

Later in the day, McCarthy held a news conference at which he said that when he first heard the report that Beria had escaped from Russia he thought it "fantastic."

McCarthy repeated that "I am not convinced" but said he was not "closing the door" to the possibility the mysterious man is Beria.

McCarthy added:

"I am extremely interested to know if this is Beria as I assume every American is."

"We naturally have taken the trouble to check into it a bit."

Asked by reporters whether any member of his staff has gone abroad to interview the man who claims to be Beria, McCarthy replied "no" but a member of my staff has personally met this man."

He declined to say whether that meant some non-salaried agent has talked to the man or plans to talk to him.

McCarthy said "We have received repeated reports, some of them from apparently reliable sources" that a man who resembles Beria and who says he is Beria is in a non-Communist country at present.

"I originally considered the report so fantastic I didn't even write to the other members of the subcommittee about it. I wanted more information before giving them a report."

"I am not closing the door to the fact that he could be Beria."

McCarthy refused to say whether the man is in custody of any government now, or whether the man contends he fled Russia before or after being arrested.

A person familiar with the Senate group's operations said, however, that investigators are convinced Beria has escaped from Russia and is in hiding, in terror of his life, in a neutral European country.

Other government sources, also asking not to be quoted by name, were skeptical, saying the chances of Beria's having escaped from behind the Iron Curtain were "one in a million."

The Senate source said today "a new man has gone over who will know him if it is Beria," and that a report from this person can be expected within a few days.

This source said the man who calls himself Beria had been contacted by agents of McCarthy's subcommittee and had sought political asylum in the United States in exchange for disclosure of Russian secrets.

Officials in the executive branch of the government said they knew nothing which would lead them to Russian secret police, has managed to get out of Russia. At the same time, it was made clear this government would be glad to receive any man who knows as many of the Kremlin's secrets as Beria does.

So far as is known in the West, Beria was last seen in public in Moscow on May 1. Soviet Premier Malenkov denounced him as a traitor July 9 and ousted him from his posts as home minister and first deputy chairman of the Council of Ministers.

His name has not been mentioned in the Russian press or radio in recent weeks, and there has been no recent mention of any trial. This has led to some speculation here that he may already have been executed.

The Senate source said an agent of McCarthy's subcommittee had flown to a neutral, non-Communist country in Europe and, after talking with the purported Beria, reported he is convinced the man is who he says he is. It was then, he said, that another agent who could identify Beria was sent.

The Senate source said the man representing himself as Beria said he had escaped with three aides in an airplane and that, if given refuge in the United States, will talk only with McCarthy or Vice President Nixon. The source said McCarthy's agents have been in touch with him about a month.

The source added that, unless the story proves to be a hoax, there is a good chance the man will be brought to this country.

In Baltimore, Col. Ullis L. Amoss, head of the International Services of Information, a private espionage outfit, said he had been contacted in Europe this summer by persons who said Beria had escaped from Russia.

Amoss, who retired after World War II duty with the Office of Strategic Services, said that in Munich he had met a man who described himself as a major of the Russian security police. He said the man asked whether the United States would grant Beria sanctuary.

Amoss said he told the man he could not speak for the U.S. Government, but it was his estimate that Beria could obtain asylum here.

Commies 'Never Had PW's'

Long Awaited Reply To UN Note Today Called 'Unsatisfactory And Unacceptable'

PANMUNJOM (P)—The Communists said today they "never captured for whom the U. N. Command has demanded an accounting" and the Allies angrily called the reply "totally unsatisfactory and unacceptable."

At the same time, the Communists demanded an accounting for 98,742 North Koreans and Chinese they said were captured by the Allies and are missing.

The long-awaited Red answer was to the Sept. 9 Allied demand that the Communists produce the 3,404 men—including more than 900 Americans—or disclose what happened to them.

"Most of them have never been captured at all," said North Korean Lt. Gen. Lee Sang Cho at a meeting of the Joint Military Armistice Commission.

U. S. Maj. Gen. Blackshear M. Bryan, senior Allied delegate, promptly replied:

"Your statement . . . is totally unsatisfactory and unacceptable. None of the people listed have been repatriated. None have been released nor reported dead, the U. N. Command charged."

The Communists said that the Allied roster was "crudely manufactured without having been carefully checked at all."

They said 519 men already had been returned to the Allied Command and 380 have long been accounted for in rosters submitted to the Allies as "released at the front, escaped or dead."

As to the rest, the Communists said, some refused repatriation "but most of them have never been captured at all."

By persistent demands, Bryan got from the Communists a promise to furnish by nationality the number of Allied prisoners the Reds hold who refuse repatriation.

At the close of the meeting, Lee promised the breakdown but did not say when.

There was a noticeable break in the tension surrounding Allied deliveries to the Indians Sunday when a group of North Koreans surprised their new guards with invitations to a special reception.

Other anti-Communists had hurled rocks at Red observers outside the wire barricades at Indian Village and refused to tell the Indian guards their names, prompting a hurried call to New Delhi for 600 more troops.

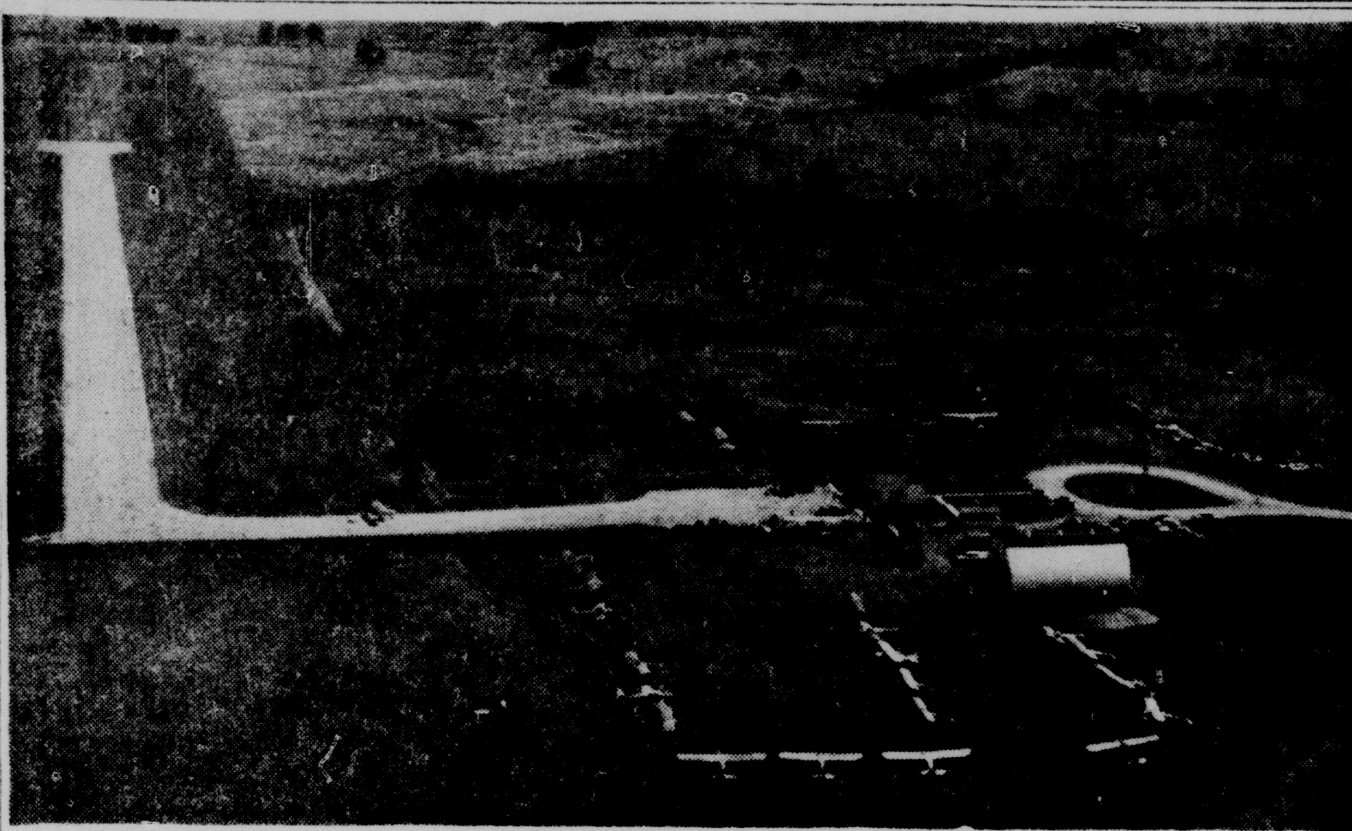

Sunday's shipment staged a volleyball game for the entertainment of the Indians.

The guards used a new tactic to avert disorder on the part of 1,640 anti-Red Chinese prisoners who arrived Monday morning—they marched them into the compounds with their backs to U. N. and Red observers.

The Allies were moving another 500 North Koreans by train to the neutral zone.

Meanwhile the five-nation repatriation commission Sunday released to the Communists two Chinese and one North Korean reported to have changed their original decision to refuse repatriation. That brought to 10 the number returned in that way.

Names on the Allied list of 3,404 missing troops were collected from Red radio broadcasts, letters received from Red prisoners, information furnished by repatriated prisoners and POW rosters handed over by the communists.

EARLY SCENE AT AIRPORT SUNDAY—This picture was taken Sunday morning, after the arrival of a number of planes before the local crowd arrived for the dedication of Sedalia's new Municipal Airport. There are about 40 planes visible here around the runways and ramps and the hangar and office buildings. The aerial view shows the main runway and its relation to the circle drive in from highway 50, east of the city. (E.B. Smith photo)

City's Airport Dedicated Sunday

Sedalia's Municipal Airport was dedicated Sunday with speeches, air program and the mailing of letters commemorating the affair.

Fifty-three visiting airplanes landed at the field and the pilots and passengers were treated to a "fly-in" breakfast by the Sedalia Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Mayor Herb Studer at 1 p. m. gave a brief talk dedicating the airport, followed by a few remarks by Claude Boul, president of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce.

Bob Younger, master-of-ceremonies introduced the speakers and throughout the afternoon announced the various events which took place.

Boul, in his remarks, said, "Today marks the beginning of a new era in Sedalia, Missouri. With the opening of this fine airport, one of the obstacles to Sedalia's industrial development has been removed."

Also at 1 p. m. Postmaster Maurice Hogan began circulation of the 587 envelopes with a cachet commemorating the formal opening of the Sedalia Municipal Airport. These letters were for many philatelists in the United States and its possessions.

Following the ceremonies, Mayor Herb Studer and a friend stepped into a plane piloted by Melvin Weiser, and took off for a flight to Kansas City. Mayor Studer had an appointment to make and was to make connections with a passenger airline into Chicago.

The day of events began at 7:40 a. m. when the first of the 53 visiting planes landed on the field, and within a few minutes the traffic pattern around the field was filled with planes. As the aircraft were parked, the pilots and their passengers were escorted to the new hangar where breakfast of Warrensburg sausage, Swifts Brookfield eggs, Tastytreat bread, butter and large marmalade, topped off with a big cup of Butter-nut coffee, was served. The breakfast program was carried on until 10 a. m.

P. L. Edwards, Kansas City, received a refueling award as he was the first plane to land on the field for the ceremonies; H. A. Hallock, Miami, Okla., was presented an electric clock for being the oldest pilot, his age being 67; Ray Helms, Wichita, Kan., received a shirt for having the longest flight; Harold Stepp, Springfield, the youngest pilot, got an alarm clock; he had a student's permit and is 17 years old; Marion Werth, Kansas City, for holding the oldest pilot's license, received a sport shirt; the oldest lady pilot would not give her name, but received a scarf.

Pat Fish didn't raise an argument for being the youngest lady pilot at 24 and she received a certificate for a pair of custom made shoes; 250 pound Paul Carpenter of Springfield won the heaviest pilot award and received a hat.

Some of the towns listed on the air record book at the airport as being represented by pilots are: Kansas City, Excelsior Springs, Republic, Lexington, Columbia, Everton, St. Louis, Springfield, Belton, Joplin, Warrensburg, Ft. Leonard Wood, Lawson and Sedalia, from Missouri; Topeka, Wichita, Parsons, Kansas City from Kansas; Miami and Oklahoma City, from Oklahoma.

Ray Helms, Wichita, Kan., representative of the Piper Aircraft Co., demonstrated the new Piper Tri-Pacer, one of the newest developments in light planes.

Chris Rau, in charge of the contest, nearly fell victim of the bomb, when one pilot dropped a "bomb" between his legs. The three pilots participating tied for first place.

Val Jean Hayworth, Sedalia's international champion of model plane flying, gave a demonstration of flying model planes which attracted much interest among those present. High winds prevented other model plane operators from putting their ships into the air.

George Handley, airport manager, estimated the crowd at better than 5,000 for the day. Handley announced that not a single accident occurred during the day even down to a scratched finger. He reported that since he took over the field about a month ago 145 planes have landed at the Sedalia field.

The Sedalia Fire Department had one fire truck on hand in case of a plane crash or fire. Chief of Police Edgar Neighbors had several officers on hand, along with members of the Missouri State Highway Patrol, to handle the traffic in and out of the field, along with members of Pettis County Post, No. 16, American Legion auxiliary police.

$52,000 Cattle Sale Held Here Saturday

Prices were not high, but they were good considering the summer drought and the current market, at the third annual Pettis County Feeder Cattle Sale held here Saturday.

Tops for the day were paid on 20 calves at $18.75 and on ten steers, averaging about 900 pounds, that brought $18.20.

Officials of the sale are still going through the records to get the full information and will make a more detailed report tomorrow. Today they announced the sale included 754 head of cattle and calves with a total price of about $52,000.

C. of C. Drive For Members Wednesday

Group of Workers Will Go In Pairs To Make Contacts

A group of men and women who know how the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce has brought benefits to them and their businesses will go out Wednesday in a one-day campaign to secure more members for the C. of C.

They will meet at 8 a. m. for a kick-off breakfast at the Bothwell Hotel and there will be divided into teams and assigned names of prospects whom they are to contact.

Then they will go out to make personal calls, telling their friends they should join to help the Chamber, but to help their town and themselves. These "salesmen" are true to the cause in that they believe in that which they are out to sell—memberships.

Some of them, discussing the project Monday, said:

"Memberships in the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce is a badge of success and a mark of loyalty to your city. It signifies that anyone with such a membership is a part of the team helping to make Sedalia a better place to live, to help it grow and prosper."

"On the face of it, it seems that there is an unselfish motive behind joining the Chamber of Commerce and entering into its activities. It's hard work sometimes, but that's true, but it pays handsome dividends."

"Often business men may share in some of the benefits provided by the Chamber of Commerce, such as the industries brought here, the prohibition of risks from swindlers and other things, but only membership in it can bring contacts and services offered to those who are willing to join in and support the one organization that assures progress."

Son-In-Law Of Sedalians Is Held Up

Wayne Brent, 28, salesman at the Westport Finance Co., in Kansas City, was one of three persons who were held up by two masked bandits at the firm's office, 4440 Prospect, Kansas City, Sunday morning. Brent is the son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. D. Kelly Scruton, 724 West Third, and he formerly resided in Warrensburg.

The two holdup men obtained about $5,000 in checks and currency and a $3,000 ring from the owner of the business Jerome L. Jacobson, 43. The other victim was another salesman Alva A. Johnson, 58.

Brent and Johnson were compelled to lie on the floor while Jacobson was forced to open the safe. Then the two men were forced to a back room and made to lie on the floor while the two men made their get-away.

The bandits wore mesh golf caps which were pulled down over their faces to serve as masks.

Pat Fish didn't raise an argument for being the youngest lady pilot at 24 and she received a certificate for a pair of custom made shoes; 250 pound Paul Carpenter of Springfield won the heaviest pilot award and received a hat.

Urban Crime Rises In Five Categories, Slumps In Only One

WASHINGTON (P)—Missouri's urban crime rate increased in five categories during the first half of the year over that for the similar period of 1952, but declined in one.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation reported today the rate of known offenses increased in murder, robbery, burglary, entering, larceny-theft and automobile thefts but dropped in aggravated assault.

Reports from 42 Missouri cities and towns were considered by the FBI in rates given for the first six months of this year compared with reports from 56 cities in the January-June period last year.

The Missouri murder and non-negligent manslaughter rate of known offenses increased in population increased from 3.39 in the first half of the year to 3.43 for the similar period this year. The robbery rate climbed from 43.5 to 50.1; burglary from 213 to 231.6; larceny-theft from 434 to 470.1, and car theft from 99 to 107.6.

The aggravated assault rate dropped from 71.8 to 71.

'Ticking' In Box Car Causes Much Excitement

Harold Seaberg, manager of the Home Lumber Co., didn't know what was ticking inside a freight car full of tile at about 7 p. m. Sunday, but he wasn't taking any chances. He called L. L. Lawrence, special agent for the MKT railroad in Sedalia and told him about the mysterious noise. Lawrence suspected what the cause was but rushed to the scene to confirm his suspicion.

With two Sedalia policemen standing by, along with State Highway Patrol Trooper Pete Stohr, Lawrence cautiously opened the freight car door and discovered the 'bomb' was an impact recorder nailed to the floor to register the motion of the car. Every body went home much relieved.

Four Youths Admit Independence Blasts, Not Involved In K.C.

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (P)—Four youths have admitted the bombings last week of an unused schoolhouse and a parked school bus near here.

Police Chief Henry Williams said, however, that there was no indication the four were connected with the bombings that have damaged six business places and a physicians' office in Kansas City recently.

The youths have been identified as Daniel Marvin Dule, 19, and his brother, Leo Gordon Dule, 16, Norman Charles Oxley, 18, and William Tommy Schultz, 20.

Police said the four gave no motive, but said they used stolen dynamite.

Russians Ask Ban On Atoms

Want Unconditional Clamp Immediately On Producing Atom Or Hydrogen Bombs

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (P)—Russia called upon the U. N. today to impose an unconditional ban on the production of atomic and hydrogen weapons without delay.

The Soviet proposal was laid before the 60-nation General Assembly during a major policy declaration by Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei V. Vishinsky.

The Soviet delegate also served notice that Russia was ready to make a vigorous fight to get the Assembly to revise its earlier decision barring neutral countries as representatives at the Korean peace conference. The Communist demands on this, he said, are justified and must be met.

The Soviet proposals on atomic control included hydrogen weapons by name, but otherwise followed closely Soviet disarmament resolutions of previous sessions.

Vishinsky assailed the United States as the real cause of world tension, charged western policy in Germany threatened to touch off a new war and declared the North Atlantic Treaty Organization was aimed at weakening the U. N.

The Soviet disarmament resolution—first Soviet move on this subject since the death of Stalin and the accession of Georgi Malenkov to power—had four points:

1. Immediate and unconditional prohibition of the atomic and hydrogen bombs within the Security Council—where Russia has the veto—to supervise compliance.
2. Immediate one-third reduction by the big five—the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain, France and China—in their armed forces with a conference shortly afterwards to discuss reduction of the armed forces of other countries.
3. Dismantling of military bases maintained in foreign countries. This was an obvious reference to the United States for Vishinsky had denounced U. S. bases overseas earlier in his speech.
4. Condemnation of propaganda tending to stimulate warlike psychosis.

The Soviet delegate told the 60-nation General Assembly his decision taken by the assembly last month ran counter to the armistice agreement in recommending that only countries representing the two belligerents should take part in the parity.

"The recommendation of this assembly must be brought into conformity with the armistice agreement," he said.

The United States has insisted that the armistice restricted the representation in the peace conference to two sides, but the Russians have sought to make it a roundtable affair by inviting India and other so-called neutrals.

Vishinsky spoke from notes. In the past when he had not had a prepared text it indicated he had received new instructions too late for inclusion in a written speech.

The Soviet delegate attacked the position of the United States as "obdurate." He said Secretary of State Dulles had adopted the policy of "neutrality" and was doing everything possible to thwart consideration of this question at the present session.

K. U. Love Is Elected Midwest Advertising Association Official

Kenneth U. Love, advertising manager of the Sedalia Democrat, was elected secretary-treasurer of the Midwest Newspaper Advertising Executives Association on Sunday at the Hotel President in Kansas City.

Fifty association members from newspapers in ten states attended the meeting, which ended at noon Monday. Mr. Love, accompanied by his wife and Mr. and Mrs. Neville Johnson, drove to Kansas City Saturday night and returned to Sedalia Sunday night. Mr. Johnson is with the advertising department of The Democrat.

Roy McKinney, advertising manager of the Dallas Times-Herald, was elected president.

Other officers are: E. D. Ward, Pittsburg, Kan., vice president and E. A. Goldsby, Baton Rouge, La., sergeant-at-arms.

Directors, elected for one year are: Richard McKee, Kansas City; Willis Brown, Minneapolis; Lowell Brown, Amarillo, Tex.; Victor Moeber, St. Joseph and Richard Hale, Monroe, La.

No. Korean Officer Flies MIG Jet to Allies

Far East Air Force headquarters had announced it was a MIG 15, the swift, mass produced type which carried the brunt of the fighting for the Red air force during the war.

The newspaper Tong-A Ilbo said the MIG was a 17 with two 37MM cannon and two 20MM cannon. It quoted an officer who had seen the plane speed in, but did not identify the officer.

It also reported that the pilot was a North Korean captain named Noh Keum Suk, and that he flew from an airfield at Sunan, about 10 miles north of the Red Korean capital of Pyongyang.

The MIG is radar equipped and is believed to be faster than the MIG15. It has been reported steady in Europe but there never have been any indications it was in the Far East.

The United States offered $100,000 last February for a MIG delivered in tact at Seoul and it was believed the North Korean officer knew of the offer.

An Air Force spokesman said a member of the neutral nations inspection team inquired whether a MIG 15 had landed today and was told that a MIG had flown in during the morning.

The spokesman declined to identify the truce inspector by name. It was known, however, that truce inspectors from Communist Poland were at Kimpo, the base near Seoul where the MIG landed.

The MIG's guns were still armed when it raced unharmed from North Korea and made a perfect landing at sprawling Kimpo Air Base near Seoul.

It was the first MIG to fall into Allied hands in Korea. The Russian-built, swept-wing fighters never left their own air over Red territory during the war.

The U. N. Command said the $100,000 reward offered for the first MIG (Please turn to Page 4, Col. 1)

Naguib's Government Arrests Former Egypt Premier Nahas

He, His Wife and 12 Other Bigwigs Face Trial Before Special Court Established By New Regime to Deal With 'Traitors'

CAIRO (P)—President Mohammed Naguib's government arrested former Premier Mustafa Nahas, his wife and 12 other onetime Egyptian bigwigs today. All 14 face trial before a special court created to deal with "traitors" to the revolutionary regime and corruption during the time of ex-King Farouk.

No specific charges were announced against any of the 14. It also was not known when they would appear before the court.

The roundup came as the three-man special tribunal prepared to begin trials of alleged plotters. The court hearings were scheduled to open later today and to remain in session throughout the three-year "transition period"—proclaimed last January—in which Egypt is operating under a provisional constitution. Political parties have been banned during that period.

Those arrested today included leaders of two once powerful political parties, several close advisers of Farouk and other persons previously accused of corruption under the monarchy.

Nahas, premier of the Wafdist government that governed Egypt from 1949 to 1952, his wife, and Hafez Afifi, former chief of Farouk's Royal Cabinet, were put under house arrest.

The other 11 were taken into custody by military police. They included:

- Ibrahim Abdel Hadi, a leader of the Saadist party and premier during the 1948 Palestine War.
- Ibrahim Farag, former cabinet minister and a spokesman for Nahas' Wafdist party.
- Ex-Premier Abbas Halim, Farouk's second cousin previously acquitted of charges in connection with Egypt's notorious Palestine War arms scandal.
- Karim Tabet, former press adviser to Farouk, who last June was stripped of political rights for 10 years and ordered to refund 5,000 pounds ($14,400) in hospital funds an anti-graft court said he acquired illegally.
- Dr. Ahmed El Nakib, former director of El Mouassa Hospital founded by Tabet and banned from holding public office for five years.
- Ismael Almiligy, brother of Saadist party chief Abdel Hadi.
- Lt. Col. Saad Eldin El Sumbati, former police officer previously acquitted of charges of torturing members of the Moslem Brotherhood.
- Mandouh Riad, former commerce minister in the Saadist government.
- Hamid Godo, former vice chairman of the Saadist party.
- Mahmoud Suleiman Ghanam, former Wafdist commerce minister.
- Kalem El Kawish, former prosecutor general ousted when Naguib took over the government.

Nahas' wife, Zeinab, already has been ordered to pay back 1,143 pounds (about $3,200) in government funds spent on a road on one of her estates. The Naguib regime also has said she and her husband would stand trial together on charges of artificially increasing Egyptian cotton prices during his term of office.

Establishment of the special court was announced shortly after Naguib and his top aides told a Cairo rally last Tuesday that a restore Farouk to the throne. The former monarch was kicked out July 26, 1952, in an army revolt led by Naguib. The regime declared Egypt a republic last January.

Meany Attacks Administration Labor Policy

Tells AFL Convention 'Political Activity' Must Be Stepped Up

ST. LOUIS (P)—AFL President George Meany today delivered a broadside attack against Eisenhower administration policies and told the AFL convention "our political activity must be stepped up."

Meany used a piece of literature from the National Association of Manufacturers (NAM) a pamphlet which the AFL chief said he received in an envelope mailed free from the White House—to tee off on his charges.

Among delegates applauding Meany's remarks in a keynote address to the opening session of the AFL's annual convention was Martin Durkin, AFL Plumbers Union president who resigned recently as Eisenhower's secretary of labor.

"Now I'm sure the NAM can afford to buy a three-cent stamp," Meany told the applauding delegates, "but maybe they feel they have taken over Washington to an extent they are now an official part of the government."

Meany said he received the NAM document, which generally praised the administration policies, in an envelope under the government's free mailing privilege accorded to federal agencies. It included a note from Walter Williams, assistant secretary of commerce assigned to the White House, Meany said.

Meany read phrases from the NAM document praising the administration policies, then commented that in each case they were against the interests of workers.

Red China Reported To Pull 70,000 Men From North Korea

SEOUL (P)—Communist China was reported today to have withdrawn 70,000 troops from its million man force in North Korea since the July 27 armistice and to be planning to withdraw that many more.

Sources with an authoritative knowledge of activity in Communist North Korea said the withdrawn Chinese are being replaced by 70,000 more Korean prisoners returned from Allied stockades during the exchange.

The sources said the Chinese withdrawal was part of a full-scale shifting of Red forces since the truce was signed. North Korean troops stationed deep in rear areas during the last part of the war have been moved to front-line positions, they said.

Allied informants said that from the Communist point of view such a move would not violate the clause in the armistice agreement which prohibits former prisoners from being employed in acts of war.

Light Frost Tonight?

A light frost would not be unexpected tonight, but if it comes it will certainly be arriving earlier than usual. Last year the first frost was on Oct. 6 while the first one in 1951 came on Oct. 8.

Fair and warmer tonight and Tuesday with scattered light frost tonight. High Tuesday in 70s. Low tonight near 40.

The temperature at 7 a. m. was 45; 65 at 1 p. m., and 66 at 2 p. m.

One year ago today here high 72, low 42. Two years ago high 85, low 62.

Britishers Scoff At Report on Beria

LONDON (P)—British diplomats today scoffed at reports from sources close to Senator McCarthy's investigations subcommittee that Lavrenty Beria may have escaped from Russia.

The Foreign Office declined to make any comment on the reports, but other sources expressed the view privately that the former Soviet Communist point of view such a move would not violate the clause in the armistice agreement which prohibits former prisoners from being employed in acts of war.

No. Korean Officer Flies MIG Jet to Allies

WASHINGTON (P)—The Air Force said today the pilot who landed his MIG plane near Seoul today will be paid $100,000.

SEOUL (P)—A daring North Korean officer today flew a MIG jet over to the Allies and a Seoul newspaper said the plane was one of the latest models, a twin-jet MIG 17.

A Fifth Air Force spokesman, asked to comment on the published report, said the Air Force "cannot confirm anything that the Seoul press reports."

Far East Air Force headquarters had announced it was a MIG 15, the swift, mass produced type which carried the brunt of the fighting for the Red air force during the war.

The newspaper Tong-A Ilbo said the MIG was a 17 with two 37MM cannon and two 20MM cannon. It quoted an officer who had seen the plane speed in, but did not identify the officer.

It also reported that the pilot was a North Korean captain named Noh Keum Suk, and that he flew from an airfield at Sunan, about 10 miles north of the Red Korean capital of Pyongyang.

The MIG is radar equipped and is believed to be faster than the MIG15. It has been reported steady in Europe but there never have been any indications it was in the Far East.

The United States offered $100,000 last February for a MIG delivered in tact at Seoul and it was believed the North Korean officer knew of the offer.

An Air Force spokesman said a member of the neutral nations inspection team inquired whether a MIG 15 had landed today and was told that a MIG had flown in during the morning.

The spokesman declined to identify the truce inspector by name. It was known, however, that truce inspectors from Communist Poland were at Kimpo, the base near Seoul where the MIG landed.

The MIG's guns were still armed when it raced unharmed from North Korea and made a perfect landing at sprawling Kimpo Air Base near Seoul.

It was the first MIG to fall into Allied hands in Korea. The Russian-built, swept-wing fighters never left their own air over Red territory during the war.

The U. N. Command said the $100,000 reward offered for the first MIG (Please turn to Page 4, Col. 1)

Four Youths Admit Independence Blasts, Not Involved In K.C.

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (P)—Four youths have admitted the bombings last week of an unused schoolhouse and a parked school bus near here.

Police Chief Henry Williams said, however, that there was no indication the four were connected with the bombings that have damaged six business places and a physicians' office in Kansas City recently.

The youths have been identified as Daniel Marvin Dule, 19, and his brother, Leo Gordon Dule, 16, Norman Charles Oxley, 18, and William Tommy Schultz, 20.

Police said the four gave no motive, but said they used stolen dynamite.

Wants Tighter Laws Against Red Material

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate probers have called for tighter security laws to plug loopholes they say permit Communists to flood America with propaganda in peacetime and set up underground presses for use in war.

One step they urged is designed to force Reds to disclose printing equipment they allegedly have stored away for use in case the Communist party is outlawed or a war with Russia breaks out.

Another would require diplomatic and consular officers putting out political propaganda in this country to register under the foreign agents registration act—thus labeling any propaganda they dispense.

The proposals were advanced by the Senate internal security subcommittee yesterday in making public 336 pages of secret testimony taken in a probe of Communist underground printing facilities and illegal propaganda.

Chairman Jenner (R-Ind.) said the closed-door hearings clearly showed "that loopholes in our security laws allow the Communist conspirators to flood the United States in peacetime with tons of propaganda and to prepare secret printing plants for continuing their propaganda activities in case of war."

Ex-Communists and former government undercover agents in the Communist party testified at the hearings. They said the Reds have set up secret headquarters and have hidden away other printing and photographic equipment for propaganda work in case the party is outlawed.

Sen. Welker (R-Idaho), who headed a three-member subcommittee task force to conduct the investigation, said in an accompanying statement:

"We learned that the Communists have spent thousands of dollars in buying printing equipment all the way from linotypes and cylinder presses, offset presses and photographic equipment, to mimeograph machines and other types of duplicating devices which have been hidden away for future needs."

Welker said that "huge quantities of paper and other supplies also were purchased and hid away."

Welker said the subcommittee developed "strong evidence" that the financing of secret Communist printing equipment "was supplied almost wholly from Moscow and through the diplomatic agencies of the Soviet satellites."

The Senate investigators released testimony that vast amounts of Communist political propaganda are imported into this country through the mails from behind the Iron Curtain.

Flies MIG to Allies

MIG to bolt to the Allies is still in effect.

There was no quick reaction from the Communists.

At first the Allies refused to identify the flier, but later in Tokyo,
Gen. O. P. Weyland, Far East Air
North commander, said he was a North Korean.

Weyland announced:
The jet was from a "North Korean air unit."

It is being studied by U. S. Air Force officers.

The pilot's name will not be revealed unless he personally consents.

The North Korean will be granted asylum if he wants it.

The pilot disappeared behind a tight wall of secrecy and Kimpo Air Base was closed to everyone but authorized military personnel.

A psychological warfare colonel near Seoul said American Sabre jets met the MIG over the southern boundary of the demilitarized strip across the Korean peninsula and escorted the Red fighter to Seoul.

However, the MIG apparently caught Kimpo Air Base by surprise.

A crowd scurried out to the runway after the plane stopped.

The pilot was described as short and black-haired.

An American pilot who met him said the flier pulled a picture of a girl from his blue flying suit and tore it up. The American pieced together the shreds of the picture, which he said "looked like a North Korean."

Col. Don P. Hall of Kingsville, Tex., commander of the 4th Fighter-Interceptor Wing, said the pilot was "smiling and very happy it was over with."

Hall said the MIG pilot got out of his plane and immediately saluted
Capt. Cipriano F. Guerra, Mission, Tex.

"The captain was quite surprised," Hall said. "He got out of his Sabre jet and walked over to the MIG15. A crewman threw sandbags under the wheels."

"The MIG pilot shook hands with all the men."

"The captain pointed toward the gun on the MIG and the MIG pilot turned off the switch. Air police immediately surrounded the plane and the MIG pilot accepted cigarrettes that were offered to him by those milling around."

Asked why the pilot brought the MIG, Hall quoted him:

"I'm happy to leave communism."

"It is believed he knew of the reward," Hall said.

The pilot's first words were reported to be "O.K." His only other word in English was "no."

Hall said his clothing was "non-descript... a blue-colored flying suit, a leather jacket and light colored shirt and flying boots."

The pilot was armed, but he turned over his loaded pistol to Guerra.

Hall said the Red pilot is about 25 years old and an officer.

Asked what the Air Force planned to do with the MIG Hall explained:

"I do not know if we will fly the MIG but we will get the most out of it. We definitely will go over it from all angles in a thorough examination."

Largest Cattle Run In a Year Hits K. C. Stockyards Monday

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The largest cattle run in a year—30,000 head—hit the Kansas City stockyards today.

About 55 per cent of the arrivals were stockers and feeders, to be sold and shipped again to the farms.

Today's receipts were the largest since Sept. 29, 1952, when 33,038 head were received and appeared to be the first of a series of heavy runs, the normal pattern of early fall.

Fires In The City

The fire companies were called at 8:58 a. m. Monday to Sixth and Kentucky when an automobile, belonging to Lee Paxton, caught fire.
The fire started from a short in a battery cable. Paxton received a slight burn on his right forearm in trying to fight the blaze. Damage was slight.

A short in an electric socket at the apartment of D. W. Thomson, 521½ West Fifth, caused a run by the fire companies about 10:05
a. m. Monday. Slight damage resulted.

A coaloil stove exploded at the residence of Wilbur Davis, 205
East Morgan, about 11:55 a. m.
Monday and set fire to the residence, doing several hundred dollars damage.

When fire companies arrived, the kitchen at the residence was a mass of flames. A line of hose was laid to get water to fight the fire.

Mrs. Davis was in the dining room and heard the noise and, seeing the flames, went to a neighbor's home and call the fire companies.

The residence is owned by Carl Abbott.

A grass and brush fire created some excitement at the Lookout School, about 15 miles northeast of Sedalia, about 10:20 a. m. today.
Neighboring farmers hurried to the area and brought the fire under control.

BIRDMAN—Inventor Pietro Guitini, known to his Perugia, Italy, townsmen as the "Flying Madman," shows part of his wing-like flying machine with which he hopes to fly by imitating the birds. Halted by police once, Guitini hopes to get their permission after he's made some improvements on his flying machine.

Last of PWs Arrive Back Home Wed.

SAN FRANCISCO (P)—The Gen. R. L. Howe, ninth and last of the freedom ships returning liberated American POWs to their homeland, docks at Ft. Mason Wednesday, concluding the greatest emotional barge the San Francisco waterfront has seen in years.

It started when the transport Gen. Nelson M. Walker sailed through the Golden Gate with 328 repatriates Aug. 23. It continued with the hospital ship Haven, the Gen. W. F. Hase, the Marine Adder, the Gen. John Pope, the Marine Phoenix, the Gen. William Black and—yesterday—the Gen. A. W. Brewster.

Delirious, unrestrained joy has been the keynote. Soldiers once given up for dead have stood at the rail, yelling, laughing and crying at the sight of their loved ones on the dock. Mothers have fainted and fathers have sobbed openly.

But maybe it's like Capt. James C. Williams said when he left the Brewster yesterday:

"Happy? I'm near crazy with happiness. I was a POW 33 months. I haven't seen my wife and kids in three years. I'll see them tomorrow. I'm so happy I.L.I. just don't know what to say."

"But I hope all these families, and all these soldiers, don't get so happy they forget what caused the misery in the first place."

"You've heard of death valley. I was there. I saw hundreds of men die for lack of food, for lack of any medical care whatever. See my nose? A Chinese smashed it with his rifle butt after they captured me."

"I saw them throw hand grenades at the wounded. I saw them open the doors of ambulances and fire inside with their machine guns."

"We walked 34 miles the first day. Some of the men had no boots. We got no water and no food for four days."

"You've heard all these stories. They've been told before. It doesn't mean much to anyone who wasn't there. I had it no worse and no better than many of the men. At least I pulled through."

"But I'd hate to think everybody was going to forget all that now, just because some of us came home on a ship. There are many American soldiers buried in Korea. They won't be coming home like this."

The captain, of Kansas City, is only 32.

There was Lt. James L. Stone, first man off the Brewster. He is 30, looks younger. He was first off because he has been awarded the Medal of Honor, the nation's highest tribute.

The first big cheer, the salutes of the generals, went to Lt. Stone, but his big moment came when he spotted his mother at the foot of the gangplank. A hero, sure, but a son first.

Altogether 301 former POWs filed off the gangplank: 239 from the Army, 48 from the Air Force, 14 Marines and 4 from the Navy. There were privates and noncoms, lieutenants, captains and majors.

Bob Thomas In Hollywood--

Press Agents Just Can't Make Sexy Siren Out of Jean Peters

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (P)—No matter how hard her press agents try, they can't make a sexy siren out of Jean Peters.

The former Ohio State coed just won't go for it. And that's despite the fact that she recently scored her biggest screen success as the pocket-picking siren in "Pick-up on South Street."

"Okay," she admitted. "It also was fine for my career. But that doesn't mean I'm going to put on a tight sweater and skirt and slither around. I'm just not the type. On Marilyn Monroe it looks good. On me it would just look silly."

Of all her tributes, Jean is proud of words from Director Jean Negulesco: "Jean is the kind of girl you would want on a desert island—but not for the reason you think. You'd want her because you know she could make the best hut, rustle up some food and carry on a fine conversation."

Jean backs up her notions by refusing to pose for the usual run of studio cheesecake pictures. She'll do fashion layouts and occasional bathing suit shots, but she puts her dainty foot down on the traditional leg art. You know, the shots where the gal is popping out of a pumpkin for halloween or holding up a shamrock for St. Patrick's Day.

While Jean doesn't think herself the physical type, her studio has other ideas. She thought that thinking had changed when she was cast in "We Believe in Love."

"When I heard Dorothy McGuire, Clifton Webb and Maggie McNamara were going to be in the picture," she observed, "I thought that I would finally have the kind of role that suited me. They sounded like smart, sophisticated company."

"But when I got to Italy and read the script, I discovered I was going to be an earthy kind of girl again. The script had me nearly being killed in a runaway truck. After hoping to meet a rich Italian, I fall for a poorer young man. We make love in an apple tree."

Capsule Review: "The Actress" is scarcely more than a vignette. A sentimental remembrance of Ruth Gordon's struggle to become an actress, it has charm and humor, but not enough plot to last a full-length movie. The principal value is in the portrayal of Spencer Tracy as Miss Gordon's former seafaring father. He gives a sterling performance, well shaded with comedy. Teresa Wright is an excellent foil as his wife, and Jean Simmons is properly intense as the budding actress.

Businessmen Raise Money to Buy Car For Their Sheriff

JASPER, Tex. (P)—Jasper County Sheriff Thomas M. Mixon hopes to have an automobile again Saturday.

The county commissioners sold the sheriff's car about a month ago in an economy move. They said they would allow eight cents a mile expense money but from now on the sheriff would have to provide his own car.

Mixon said he didn't have money to buy a car. But businessmen here started a fund-raising campaign to get the sheriff back on wheels.

Gen. Dean Takes Off On Return to United States From Tokyo

TOKYO (P)—Maj. Gen. William F. Dean, the prize prisoner of the Communists for more than three years, left today for the United States with 10 other Americans on a regularly scheduled flight.

Eight of his fellow passengers were also prisoners of the Communists who were returned in Operation Big Switch. The other two were soldiers whose illnesses required medical care in the United States.

"It was a regularly scheduled flight," an officer said. "The general wanted it that way."

The 54-year-old Medal of Honor winner said goodbye at the airport to Gen. O. P. Weyland, Far East Air Forces commander, a long-time friend.

Also at Tokyo's international airport was Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison, U.N. deputy chief, who signed the armistice agreement that preceded Big Switch.

West Virginia Loses Its Largest Man

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (P)—The largest man in West Virginia's largest city is dead.

Alfred Alton Jackson, 30-year-old Negro, died Saturday following a short illness. He weighed 465 pounds.

Funeral home attendants said a special casket will be ordered from a local firm, but they haven't decided yet on the size.

Government May Take Action To Hike Home Mortgage Credit

WASHINGTON (P)—Housing Administrator Albert M. Cole said today the government may take "direct action" unless private mortgage credit is available to sustain reasonably high home building activity.

Cole's address, prepared for the American Bankers Assn. at its 79th convention here, was the first official acknowledgment of government concern—and surprise—over the housing slowdown. Many builders have blamed a shortage of credit.

New home starts in August, Cole reported, were down to a rate of 970,000 a year, not seriously below the 1,127,000 in 1952. But a sharper future decline is indicated by a drop in current applications for Federal Housing Administration (FHA) mortgage insurance, he said.

This may mean some difficulty next year, the head of the Housing and Home Finance Agency went on, in keeping residential construction up to a level consistent with a sound economy. He told the bankers:

"I submit to you the very serious reminder that if we are unable to maintain a reasonably high continuing volume of home production—which means an adequate continuing flow of mortgage credit—we may be required to resort to some means of assistance to avoid unnecessary wrenches to our entire economy."

"On this somewhat sober note I suggest in sincere candor that the bankers weigh carefully the problem they share with housers. To rustle up some food and carry on a fine conversation."

Jean backs up her notions by refusing to pose for the usual run of studio cheesecake pictures. She'll do fashion layouts and occasional bathing suit shots, but she puts her dainty foot down on the traditional leg art. You know, the shots where the gal is popping out of a pumpkin for halloween or holding up a shamrock for St. Patrick's Day.

While Jean doesn't think herself the physical type, her studio has other ideas. She thought that thinking had changed when she was cast in "We Believe in Love."

"When I heard Dorothy McGuire, Clifton Webb and Maggie McNamara were going to be in the picture," she observed, "I thought that I would finally have the kind of role that suited me. They sounded like smart, sophisticated company."

"But when I got to Italy and read the script, I discovered I was going to be an earthy kind of girl again. The script had me nearly being killed in a runaway truck. After hoping to meet a rich Italian, I fall for a poorer young man. We make love in an apple tree."

Capsule Review: "The Actress" is scarcely more than a vignette. A sentimental remembrance of Ruth Gordon's struggle to become an actress, it has charm and humor, but not enough plot to last a full-length movie. The principal value is in the portrayal of Spencer Tracy as Miss Gordon's former seafaring father. He gives a sterling performance, well shaded with comedy. Teresa Wright is an excellent foil as his wife, and Jean Simmons is properly intense as the budding actress.

Despite some protests over loose in interest rates, Bennett said in prepared remarks, the rates are now "more nearly normal than were the artificially low rates of the past 20 years."

Wendell T. Burns, president of the Savings and Mortgage Division of the Bankers Association and senior vice president of the Northwestern National Bank, Minneapolis, said 1953 has been an important year for the citizen who saves.

"No longer is he the forgotten man of the federal government," Burns declared. "The administration in Washington appears determined to stabilize the dollar and to encourage an expanding economy without inflation."

"Importance is attached to protecting the value of the saver's dollar."

Another banker assured the delegates that the "hard dollar" policy of the administration will be eased promptly if a business recession should loom.

Roy L. Reierison, vice president of the Bankers Trust Co., New York, assured the group's 79th convention here the government will stick to its "mildly restrictive" credit policy while business booms.

But the Federal Reserve Board's quick corrective action this spring, when swiftly rising interest rates and a credit squeeze "distressed and disorganized" the financial markets, proved the alertness of the money managers in Washington, Reierison said. He added:

"In an economic downturn, the authorities will almost certainly shift rapidly toward a pronounced easing of credit."

Reierison suggested that interest rates have reached their peak but show no sign of early decline. He said credit may be moderately tighter the rest of this year, but "a business downturn would accentuate the seasonal easing of credit in early 1954."

Few of the 7,000 delegates seemed to expect more than a mild and brief readjustment in the wake of the mobilization boom. Most of those interviewed avoided the word "recession." To a man they approved the "sound money" policy of the Republican administration.

Assn. President W. Harold Brenton, in an interview, described the economy as "very healthy." He suggested that business activity has reached a high plateau "where it will remain for several months."

Brenton, president of the State Bank of Des Moines, said some shipping is to be expected on the basis of current trends in autos and farm machinery. But he added: "I believe the long run trend of the economy will be up."

Reierison's address was prepared for a meeting (9 a. m., EST) of the savings and mortgage division, one of the four major units which make up the organization of 16,873 banks and branches. The other divisions—state banks, national banks and trust—scheduled separate sessions.

All—or as many as can crowd in—will assemble in Constitution Hall tomorrow (8 a. m. EST) to receive greetings from President Eisenhower and an address by Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey on "Three Pillars of Sound Money."

Reierison told the bankers "no significantly damaging effects" were noticeable from last spring's credit crisis. It was eased when the Federal Reserve lowered the reserve requirements of its member banks by about a billion dollars, thereby boosting their lending power by about six billions.

But the money shortage and some misinterpretation of official statements, he said, caused "increasing anxiety regarding the future and contributed to the evaporation of market confidence."

Fears have been dispelled, he said, by the reserve board's willingness to alter its position, plus a Treasury promise to meet federal money needs without undue strain on the economy.

Reierison said Treasury officials have been "temperate and restrained." He said they "are not likely to be overly zealous" in their program to convert as much as possible of the public debt into bond issues which are longer in maturity, higher in interest rate and less inflationary than the short term securities which have become common in recent years.

The bankers were told that government bond prices probably are at their low point and will rise in 1954. The speaker foresaw no return to cheap money.

"A moderate business downturn," Reierison said, "is unlikely to lead to a repetition of the excessively easy credit and low interest rates that were generally characteristic of market conditions in the past two decades."

HST Sees Complete Accord Among Nations

KANSAS CITY (P)—Former President Harry S. Truman says that eventually there will be complete understanding among all free nations "the means to create peace in the world for future generations."

"People have always been attracted by an ideal," he told an NBC Television audience yesterday. "We must make the ideal of democracy increasingly brighter and more real."

Thinks AFL Leaders Should Get Pay Raise

ST. LOUIS (P)—The AFL's top leaders should get a pay raise, the union's executive council says. No specific amount was mentioned, but the council's report, prepared for the national convention which opens today, said the standards "do not meet present-day standards and conditions."

George Meany, AFL president, now receives $25,000 a year. Secretary-Treasurer William Schnitzler gets $22,000.

Wreck Wipes Out Wedding Party, Truck Driver

BAKER, Calif. (P)—A flaming three-vehicle crash on a desert highway yesterday wiped out a wedding party in a crowded sedan and left a toll of 10 dead in one of the worst traffic accidents in California history.

All nine persons in the wedding party were killed, including a young couple bound for Las Vegas, Nev., to be married. The driver of one truck laden with gasoline was killed and a sailor hitchhiking a ride with him was injured. The driver of another truck escaped without injury.

The crash created a ghastly scene of burning wreckage and bodies and tied up traffic on U. S. Highway 91 more than three hours. The accident occurred on the principal route between Los Angeles and Las Vegas, east of here.

Deputy Coroner Edward P. Doyle said the dead were identified tentatively as: Thomas Graham Jr., 24, and his intended bride, Jean Lindsey, 21; Claude Lindsey, about 45 driver of the car; Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Lindsey, about 25 and 23; Linda Lindsey, 4; Virginia Lindsey, 2, and Joyce Lindsey, 14, and the driver of one of the trucks, John J. Jones, 44, Las Vegas, Nev.

Another body in the sedan has not yet been identified.

The sailor hitch-hiker in the truck was Howard Heifuss, Valleyheart Dr., Sherman Oaks, Calif., who suffered head injuries and had his clothes burned off. The only other survivor of the crash was Walter C. Pope, 28, El Monte, Calif., driver of the other truck.

ROK Assembly Meets In Seoul First Time In Three Years

SEOUL (P)—The South Korean National Assembly today met in Seoul for the first time in three years.

One hundred ten assemblymen of the 182-man legislature attended the first session held at the war scarred capitol since the outbreak of the Korean War in June, 1950.

President Syngman Rhee did not attend or send a message.

An assembly spokesman said today's meeting was "only the continuance of the 16th session and there is not much new."

The legislature met during the war years in the provincial capital of Pusan.

"SCIENCE PUNCTURES A MYTH"

Do you know that there are over 200 types of inks? And they all differ slightly in composition! That's why removing ink stains from fabrics is such a problem, requiring the skill and technique of an experienced spotter.

Inks are classified as washable, permanent, and ball point. The fabric itself determines the ease and degree of removal of each of these classes. Some are removed by wet spotting reagents; others by dry spotting reagents. CLEANING cautions that if you do not know the type of ink you are trying to remove, you can set the stain and no method or technique will remove it!

Yesterday's Games-- Braves Set New Record With Crowds

By JOE REICHLER
AP Sports Writer

Attention, American League club owners!

When you convene next Sunday to discuss the Browns' proposed transfer, it might be well to adopt the following slogan:

"Remember the Braves!"

It is doubtful if this amazing story—the Braves shift from Boston to Milwaukee and the tremendous loyalty of the baseball-happy Milwaukee fans—will ever be forgotten.

In its first major league baseball season in half a century, Milwaukee established a new National League attendance record when 11,826,397 cash customers came out to root their beloved Braves into second place. There is no doubt that the almost daily capacity crowds had much to do with the Braves' surprising showing. Even their most ardent admirers didn't dare hope for anything higher than fourth.

Although yesterday's games had no bearing on the final standings, a capacity crowd of 36,011—one person for every seat in County Stadium—watched the Braves split a doubleheader with Cincinnati. Rookie Joey Jay, making his first major league start, shut out the Redlegs 3-0 in an abbreviated seven-inning nightcap after Cincinnati had won the opener 5-3.

The doubleheader, which concluded the club's home games for the year, enabled the Braves to shatter the old league attendance mark of 1,807,526 set by the pennant winning Dodgers of 1947. The only second place club ever to draw more than the current Braves were the 1950 Detroit Tigers, who drew 1,951,474. Briggs stadium seats 32,954 to 36,011 for Milwaukee.

Virgil Trucks became the fourth American League pitcher to win 20 games this year when he hurled the White Sox to a 5-2 victory as Chicago swept a doubleheader from the St. Louis Browns. Chicago took the opener 4-0.

Gus Zernial walloped homers Nos. 40 and 41 to help Philadelphia win two games from Washington 13-9 and 4-3.

Billy Martin's three-run homer highlighted the New York Yankees' 10-8 slugfest victory over the Boston Red Sox.

Mike Garcia won his 18th game pitching Cleveland to a 6-3 triumph over Detroit after the Tigers had taken the opener 8-6.

Stan Musial cracked out a single, triple and his 28th home run in four times at bat to lead the St. Louis Cardinals to an 11-6 triumph over the Chicago Cubs.

The pennant winning Dodgers divided a twin bill with Philadelphia, winning the opener 5-4 and losing the second 2-1.

Cal Abrams hit a grand slam home run that gave Pittsburgh an 8-4 triumph over the New York Giants.

It's Good to Know They Profited Some

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—Surprise quote from California football coach Pappy Waldorf:

"It was an ideal game for us. It taught us what we needed to know."

The game? Why, that 25-0 bouncing Baylor handed Cal Saturday.

Oklahoma Meets Notre Dame--

Big 7 Faces One of Toughest Weekends Ever On Gridirons

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Big Seven this weekend takes on one of its toughest football schedules with top billing going to Oklahoma—host to Notre Dame.

Coach Bud Wilkinson's Sooners, idle last week while other Big Seven teams were breaking even in six games, will be defending their home winning record of 21 straight on Owen Field. There'll be a paid crowd of 37,935.

Notre Dame edged Oklahoma 27-21 at South Bend last year in the first football meeting of the two schools. The Irish are favored to make it two in a row, but few in the Midlands believe Notre Dame will have an easy afternoon.

The second weekend of football shapes up as a rugged one for all the Big Seven members. Forgetting the Oklahoma-Notre Dame affair, the conference goes against three Big Ten members and one Pacific Coast league.

The Kansas Jayhawks, beaten 13-0 by T.C.U. last Saturday night at Fort Worth, tackle U.C.L.A. in another night game in Los Angeles. Missouri takes on Purdue, Big Ten co-champion last year, at Columbia Saturday. The Missouri club was tamed, 20-6, by Maryland in the opener for the split T.C.U. game.

Nebraska, loser 20-12 to Oregon in a nationally televised game, goes against Illinois on the Big Ten grid.

And Colorado, face saver for the Big Seven, will play Arizona in Boulder, Colo. Colorado upset Washington 21-20 with sophomore fullback Homer Jenkins running, passing and punting in great form.

Lower State and Kansas State, both winners in their first games, also step up against tougher foes.

Iowa State will meet Northwestern at Evanston after defeating South Dakota 35-0 at Ames. Kansas State, 52-0 victor over Drake, hopes to make it two in a row at the expense of Colorado A&M in Fort Collins.

Big Seven first glances: Both Coaches Jim Tatum and Don Faurot said they were still strong for one-plateon football after the Maryland-Missouri game. . . . So did the name players for both teams. Missouri suffered for lack of speed in the backfield. . . . On two plays at least the Tigers could have scored with a fast man on the wide pitchouts. . . . And Maryland could have had two more touchdowns in the first quarter with Bernie Faloney's passes a bit more on the softer side. Tatum, who announced he would play his squad in platoons, had to change after the first unit substitution. . . . The second unit was beaten by Faurot's piecemeal substitution program in the second period.

Kansas sophomore backfield was not up to the task with T. C. U. at Fort Worth. The scoring opportunities were bobbed. . . . Tackle Joe Lundy and backs Don Hess and John Anderson came up with excellent performances. . . . TCU lost the ball five times on fumbles. Kansas gave it away four times. . . . Kansas suffered severe blows in the loss of Bill Nieder, sophomore center, for the season, and veteran halfback Frank Cindrick for several weeks, both with knee injuries.

Missouri lost Guy Rose, its No. 2 left half, for the season. Rose suffered a broken leg on his first play late in the first quarter.

Kansas State won as it pleased over Drake. . . . Veryl (Joel) Switzer ran back a punt 92 yards for a touchdown. It was a record for K-State. Switzer and Corky Taylor each scored twice. Four other fellows got one apiece. . . . The Wildcats picked up 438 yards rushing against 37 for Drake. That should be some sort of a rushing record for the 'Cats since World War II.

Marciano won a split decision from LaStarza March 24, 1950.

The champ looked sharp as he went four rounds with Mike Fisher of Boston, Toxie Hall of Chicago, Willie Wilson of Providence and Bob Golden of Denver.

"That was the best I ever saw him in training," said Manager Al Weill.

Marciano talked freely of his last fight with LaStarza.

"It was very close," he said. "But I thought I won it. I don't think I threw even one combination that night. When I knocked him down, I didn't hit him a full shot. It was a long right that caught him against the ropes.

"I guess he's the best boxer I ever fought. But I don't remember that he ever hurt me. We were mixing pretty good in the eighth round, the one I lost on a low blow. I don't remember hitting him low but the referee came over and took the round away.

"It was the only round I ever lost on a low blow since I started boxing."

Now the eastern oracles suspect there's another plot afoot to name Ed Mathews, Milwaukee's sensational third-baseman, and keep the silverware in the west another year. They are steaming that anyone capable of counting to three knows the only possible choice is Roy Campanella, the Brooklyn catcher. Choose your weapons.

Only a small and select group of boxing writers witnessed the other fight between Rocky Marciano and Roland LaStarza here back in the spring of '50, most of the columnists having been far away at the time expediting the baseball training camps.

When you do run one of them down he is apt to be extremely hazy about what happened that night except that, in most cases, he scored LaStarza the winner. They were just a pair of fairly promising young heavyweights at the time, he will say, and he spent much of the evening admiring a blonde in the fourth row.

They do agree on one thing, namely, that if Roland thinks he will be fighting the same Rocky next Thursday night he's in for a bad shock. They can't recall that Rocky had much of a left hook in those days, and that's what he kills you with now.

One must assume that Rogers Hornsby has served his last day as a big league manager. It is too bad, for friend and foe alike agree that the former great slugger possesses one of the finest baseball brains in the business.

Gabe Paul, Cincinnati's general manager, felt that he could get along with the gruff Rajah where others had failed. He must have

Football Upsets Upset Democrat's Grid Pix Panel

Upsets marred the predictions of The Democrat's panel of Grid Pix experts last week and cut the percentages to what is expected to be their lowest ebb of the season.

Coach Stub Dow, of the Smith-Cotton High Tigers, topped the five panel members with a percentage of .583, getting the winners correct on 14 of 24 games (he was excused from calling the count on the Tigers' tilt).

Next in line were Floyd Pricey and John Joe McGrath, with 14 correct in a list of 25 games for percentages of .560. Art Stuebker and John Van Dyne complete the panel and their marks were .480 with 12 correct in 25 games.

There were five upsets that stumped experts all across the country last weekend, and there were other games that could have gone either way and they went the opposite from the panel members' guesses.

Rocky to Meet LaStarza Again Thursday Night

GROSSINGER, N.Y. (AP)—Rocky Marciano, at the peak of his career, expects to erase the only disputed fight in his record Thursday night at the Polo Grounds against determined Roland LaStarza.

"I'd like to clear that up," said the heavyweight champion after yesterday's sizzling workout. "It's the only fight there ever was any argument about. I always figured I'd fight him again.

"He's a strong guy, one of the strongest I ever fought—at least as strong as Joe Walcott. But he doesn't hit like Walcott.

"I think I've improved an awful lot since the first fight with LaStarza. After all, that was 3½ years ago."

Marciano won a split decision from LaStarza March 24, 1950.

The champ looked sharp as he went four rounds with Mike Fisher of Boston, Toxie Hall of Chicago, Willie Wilson of Providence and Bob Golden of Denver.

"That was the best I ever saw him in training," said Manager Al Weill.

Marciano talked freely of his last fight with LaStarza.

"It was very close," he said. "But I thought I won it. I don't think I threw even one combination that night. When I knocked him down, I didn't hit him a full shot. It was a long right that caught him against the ropes.

"I guess he's the best boxer I ever fought. But I don't remember that he ever hurt me. We were mixing pretty good in the eighth round, the one I lost on a low blow. I don't remember hitting him low but the referee came over and took the round away.

"It was the only round I ever lost on a low blow since I started boxing."

Now the eastern oracles suspect there's another plot afoot to name Ed Mathews, Milwaukee's sensational third-baseman, and keep the silverware in the west another year. They are steaming that anyone capable of counting to three knows the only possible choice is Roy Campanella, the Brooklyn catcher. Choose your weapons.

Only a small and select group of boxing writers witnessed the other fight between Rocky Marciano and Roland LaStarza here back in the spring of '50, most of the columnists having been far away at the time expediting the baseball training camps.

When you do run one of them down he is apt to be extremely hazy about what happened that night except that, in most cases, he scored LaStarza the winner. They were just a pair of fairly promising young heavyweights at the time, he will say, and he spent much of the evening admiring a blonde in the fourth row.

They do agree on one thing, namely, that if Roland thinks he will be fighting the same Rocky next Thursday night he's in for a bad shock. They can't recall that Rocky had much of a left hook in those days, and that's what he kills you with now.

One must assume that Rogers Hornsby has served his last day as a big league manager. It is too bad, for friend and foe alike agree that the former great slugger possesses one of the finest baseball brains in the business.

Gabe Paul, Cincinnati's general manager, felt that he could get along with the gruff Rajah where others had failed. He must have

Ted Williams Proves He's The Greatest

Almost unnoticed because of the pennant races and the World Series has been the amazing performance of Ted Williams.

The Boston Red Sox slugger, after serving with distinction as a Marine jet pilot in Korea, was released from service in July and started playing baseball in mid-August.

Since then he has hit 13 home runs—about one in every six times at bat, a pace so amazing that everyone is wondering what he might have done if he had played all season.

Joe Reichler of The Associated Press, knows the inside of baseball and is a personal friend of Ted Williams. He tells you here "The Ted Williams Story."

By JOE REICHLER

BOSTON (AP)—There is still only one Ted Williams.

There simply can't be another. If there were, Williams wouldn't rest until he had outstripped his rival.

This tempestuous figure, this colorful and controversial personality, this perfection-minded individual, this tremendous slugger has proved conclusively that he stands out all alone as the greatest batter in baseball today.

And there are many, particularly among the Cabots and Lowells and Murphys of New England who will tell you that this tall slugger of the Boston Red Sox is one of the most remarkable, if not the most remarkable, hitter the game ever has known.

"Greater than Babe Ruth? Perhaps not. But the observations of Joe Cronin, the Red Sox general manager, are worth listening to.

"Ted Williams is the greatest figure in sports today," says Cronin. "He has proved beyond a shadow of doubt that he belongs in special class of hitters with Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig. In my book he is as great as the Babe and Lou were, when it comes to combining batting average with slugging."

"I'm not saying Williams is as great a home run hitter as Ruth was. But Ted's lifetime batting average is higher. And Ted strikes out less often. You must remember that Ruth, as well as Gehrig and all the other great sluggers played in parks that best fitted their special talents. The right field fence in Yankee Stadium, for instance, measures only some 300 feet. It can never be said that Fenway Park, with the most distant right field in the majors, was built for Ted Williams.

The cold statistics of Williams' work in his second post-war return to baseball borders on the fantastic but it doesn't tell half the story. Ted's batting deeds since he was installed in the regular lineup about a month ago have amazed even his most devoted followers. He has proved that at 35, he is still as great a hitter as he ever was.

Who else but Williams could crush a home run as a pinch hitter in only his second time at bat, exactly a month after he landed in the United States after flying jet planes over Communist territory in Korea?

Who else but Williams could saunter up to the plate, his wrist swollen, his elbow sore, his hands blistered, body too tired to permit him to play regularly, and wallop a pinch hit homer on the first ball pitched to him?

Who else but Williams could hit an amazing 400 and pound out a dozen homers in his first 75 times at bat—one in every 6—after 16 months in the service?

All these things Ted has done.

Columbia Wins Over Phillips '66' By Neat 37 Pins

The Phillips "66" bowling team dropped its first game to the Semmons Furniture Co., of Columbia in a home-and-home series by 37 pins. The games were rolled Sunday in the first of the series at Columbia.

John Scheurer and Jack Garrett of Columbia piled up 567 and 542 pins respectively to lead their team while Bob Scott rolling for Bob McCurdy had a total of 538 pins to lead the Sedalians.

The highlight of the match came in the "sugar game" as Bob Wiley lined up seven straight strikes for a 255 and John Scheurer's 209 was enough to put the game on ice. Wiley and Scheurer incidentally are Missouri State doubles champs.

October 4 the return match will be bowled at the Sedalia Bowling Lanes.

Two local girls teams who went to Columbia met the same fate as "66" and will be looking for revenge when their match is returned by Columbia on Oct. 4.

Dairymen Go Forward, Plan State Rallies

The ground work and plans are completed for 13 district dairy rallies in Missouri. The American Dairy Association of Missouri is organizing the state into 13 districts in order to bring ADA closer to the producer and give more people an opportunity to participate in the work of their ADA.

Every dairy man and his family is invited to take part in the rally. Lexington has been selected as the meeting place for District 4. The meeting will be held from 10:30 a. m. to 2:30 p. m. at the Municipal Building on Tuesday, October 20. An inexpensive lunch will be available and free milk and ice cream for all.

The counties that make up District 4 are Clinton, Gladwin, Carroll, Saline, Pettis, Johnson, Lafayette, Ray, Clay, Platte, Jackson and Cass.

There will be entertainment, short speeches, election of the local board of directors, and a presentation of the ADA program.

Dairy farmers in the 48 states are beginning to do for themselves. Dairymen recognize that dairying is the producers' business and the selling of dairy products is also their business.

The American Dairy Association is launching an expanded program this fall. "In order for the dairy industry to keep pace with other industries the pace of selling must be stepped up to or above that of competition," Loren Gafke, Manager of ADA of Missouri, stated at a recent planning committee meeting.

Missouri is laying the ground work now for an expanded set-aside program. Many producers have stated that the Missouri dairyman must keep up with his neighbors in other states. Eleven states have already voted a year-around program of 1/2 cent per pound of butterfat or 2 cents per hundred pounds of milk. Some have asked how much this would amount to individually. It will amount to just a little more than 1.7 cents per ten-gallon can of milk. Not much for each farmer, but it will do a much better job of selling than put with funds from other dairymen than the two-month set-aside is able to do now.

One phase of the expanded program will be a new radio and television advertising campaign starring Bob Hope and Bob Crosby.

Bob Hope will be the spokesman for ADA over the network of 204 stations of the National Broadcasting Company each Friday evening from 7:30-8:00, beginning Friday, September 25. September 22 over 50 of the key stations from coast to coast of the Columbia Broadcasting Television System, Bob Crosby will start the first of his Tuesday and Thursday afternoon telecasts. The telecast will be seen from 2:45 to 3:00 p. m.

Poultrymen Find Built Up Litter Best, Cheapest

More and more poultrymen are using built-up litter and are finding it to be one of the best and cheapest labor saving methods that they can use. In fact, many producers report that they have used the same litter for four or five seasons in the laying house and are getting along in fine shape.

One of the questions that most folks ask about built-up litter is, "How do we get started using it?" The answer is to start at the time the pullets are housed in the fall. Start with about 3 or 4 inches of fresh litter—straw and work in some lime into the litter to prevent it from caking and to speed up the breaking down process. Then, about the time cold weather starts, repeat the process until you have 6 to 8 inches of litter built up. Ground corn cobs, shavings, and sawdust are the most common materials used. Straw, of course, can be used but it is probably the poorest litter material.

Keeping the litter dry is the key point in a successful built-up litter program. Folks who have had difficulty with the litter getting wet can usually trace their troubles to at least one of these four things: poor ventilation, overcrowding of

Another Cattle Sale Is Past

The third annual Feeder Calf Sale held by the Pettis County Beef Producers Association is now history. I have not had the opportunity to check sale totals, but understand the 750 head brought around $50,000.

One Iowa buyer in talking with the Sale Board president and manager, C. S. Arnold, told of attending the sale at Potosi Sept. 16-17-18. This man said he could buy cattle at home cheaper than he could at the sale.

Actually, with the calves and steers in graded lots buyers can afford to pay more than if they have to go from farm to farm to pick up small ungraded lots. Apparently some of the northern buyers appreciated this as I helped check out 74 head to one man and 152 head to another.

Board Members Managed Sale

It's been practice for each of the nine board members to have a specific job in the sale and to obtain their own crews. This was more difficult this year because all help was donated to cut down sale expense. Some crews were short-handed, but many consigners came in to the pens to help as soon as their cattle were unloaded so every thing went on schedule. An effort was made to provide meal tickets for all who worked on the various crews, but I expect some were missed.

Of course, it's impossible to mention all the approximately 75 folks who helped with the sale, but I would like to list the "crew chiefs" and the jobs they did so well.

Walter Nicholson and his crew were checking in the cattle. Stanley Haggard had charge of identification (chip and ear tagging). Bruce Leitch was at the scales (each calf was weighed individually). Clay Lettich had charge of rough sorting and Tom Ream of moving the cattle in and out of the 70-odd pens in the lots.

Livestock Specialists Do Final Grading

Sam Rowe and Bill Pugh, extension livestock specialists from the University of Missouri at Columbia, with the help of Lettich and Ream, did the final grading. Both calves and yearlings were divided into pens of 1 to 25 each on the basis of breed, sex, age, lot, quality and amount of fleshing.

Stricter Rules Improve Quality

The livestock specialists can justify their time with these sales only if the sales help to improve quality of cattle in the state. Because of this the specialists recommended to each sale group this spring that entrance standards be raised to keep out horned cattle and those of beef type. Quality of cattle in this third annual sale was given a big assist by the board's decision to go along with the above recommendation.

Only one lot of horned cattle was brought in. Though they were of good quality they were sold at the last along with pens of lowest grade cattle because they were not supposed to be there. One Sedalia business man consigned a pen of cattle and then withdrew them when he found that horns were not allowed.

One of the board members, Stanley Haggard, told of having some slips from dehorning with caustic. He cut them off just a few weeks ahead of the sale with no fly problem or other ill effect.

A number of cattle of dairy breeding did get in and of course did pull down the average of the sale. Probably another year with birds, poor type of water fountain, or failure to stir the litter frequently. It's a good practice to stir the litter about twice a week during cold, damp weather. During warm months, the litter usually remains dry and stirring is not necessary.

Many poultrymen would like to use built-up litter but are afraid of disease and parasites being present. However, results to date indicate that there isn't any need to worry about this point as long as the litter remains dry. Removing the caked material around feeders and waterers is probably all that is necessary.

abundant pasture and plenty of cattle offered it may be possible to make pre sale inspections to rule out such cattle.

Pen Sheets Big Job

As soon as each pen was completed, the listing crew with J. W. Rissler in charge, made a record of each animal in it. Henry Cook had charge of the sale ring with Jim Harvey serving as clerk while C. S. Arnold set up the office and payoff arrangements. Pierre Lamy was in general charge of the yards and he and Mr. Arnold moved around lending a hand where ever needed.

Raymond Kahrs was check-out man and each animal was carefully identified by number. The need for this last job was learned by bitter experience. Several head from an earlier sale became mixed with a shipment to Illinois. The man admitted he had the cattle, but wouldn't pay for them. Final settlement was just made in the September term of court up there.

Suggestions For 1954

Besides suggestions for further improvement in quality in 1954 some speed-up in the sale preparations is expected. One of these will be an improved fly tag. Most delay right at sale time comes in making pen sheets. Pen crews are hampered by consigners wandering the alleys looking to find which pens contain their cattle. Possibly the numbers of the calves in each pen might be posted on a blackboard as they enter the ring so sellers could locate their cattle as they are sold and not need to be in the alleys except to help.

Quisenberry 4-H'ers Banquet For Parents

The Quisenberry 4-H club entertained their parents and members of their families with a banquet at the school Friday night, Sept. 18. There were 51 people at the banquet.

After the meal the 4-H Club presented their local achievement program.

The following project leaders were introduced and each gave a complete report of the projects carried: Mrs. Cloyce Wilson, food preparation; Mrs. Jack Alfrey, assistant; Wiley Booth, dairy; Mrs.

Paul Read, clothing and home-furnishing; Oril Chappell, woodwork; Cloyce Wilson, beef.

After the program Mr. Chappell showed pictures of their recent trip through the western states.

The club had a project tour Saturday, Sept. 12. Five homes were visited and pictures were taken of the livestock projects after which the group enjoyed watermelon at the home of Larry Wilson.

More Pettis County Land To Hay Crops

The lack of rain this summer and fall will be a primary factor among the big majority of the Pettis County farmers in their decision to increase acreages to be seeded to small grains this fall. Clover seedlings have failed, pastures have either perished and need reseeding or are non-productive, and corn and other forage crops have been cut from fields leaving them barren. These fields are in need of cover crops for protection of the soil and most of all farmers are in need of pasture for their livestock, states Robert W. Rissler, Chairman, Pettis County PMA Committee.

A large acreage of rye and barley is being seeded in the county as a means of furnishing early fall and winter pasture. However due to the shortage of these seeds some farmers are seeding wheat which will be used for pasture.

Since we are operating for 1954 under wheat allotments and Wheat Marketing Quota law, Rissler cautions the Pettis County farmers to be certain at provisions of these two programs before seeding any wheat in excess of the 1954 wheat acreage allotments established on the farm.

Wheat seeded solely for pasture, hay or silage, or green manure on any farm will be considered as wheat unless, prior to the seeding of the wheat, the farmer requests approval of the county PMA committee for the seeding of wheat for use other than grain harvest and designates with the county committee the fields or areas which will be used for that purpose. Fields of volunteer wheat will be considered wheat for grain when acreages are measured this fall unless they have been designated with the committee as an acreage to be used for pasture, etc., and not to be harvested for grain, states Rissler.

Under provisions of the Wheat Marketing Quota law, a farmer may seed for harvest on any farm until as many as 15 acres of wheat. A wheat producer having grain under this provision will not be eligible for price support on this wheat but may be issued a marketing card to sell his wheat on the market or may dispose of it in any manner he chooses.

A wheat producer seeding wheat in excess of the 1954 wheat acreage allotment for the farm will not be eligible for price support and must satisfy the penalty for overplanting before being issued a marketing card to dispose of his free wheat, explained Rissler.

Change Drought Co. Designation In Five States

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson has announced the changes in the designation of drought disaster counties in Arkansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, and Texas.

Continued deterioration of pastures has resulted in the addition of five counties in Arkansas, eleven counties in Missouri, and two in Oklahoma. However, generally improved grazing conditions have resulted in suspending the operation of the drought program in Arkansas, 21 counties in Oklahoma and 116 counties in Texas.

Recent rains in Texas have improved present feed conditions so that continuation of the emergency program in the indicated counties was considered unnecessary by the Texas State USDA Drought Committee. As in other areas, the program is being suspended as the need for feed decreases throughout improved situations in individual counties.

In the counties in which the program is suspended, County Drought Disaster Committees will no longer accept applications for the purchase of feed and no further orders for shipment of feed will be placed. The emergency drought feed program in these counties cannot be reactivated without approval of the Secretary of Agriculture.

Eligible farmers, ranchers, and dairymen in the counties in the designated drought disaster areas may purchase Commodity Credit Corporation-issued wheat, corn, wheat, oats, and cottonseed meal at below market prices. Plant Shrubbery In Fall Months

By Louise Woodruff,
Extension Home Management Specialist

Lack of moisture has been a real problem in establishing yard plantings the past two years. But even in dry years, fall plantings of shrubbery are more likely to be successful than spring plantings.

Fall planting is especially important for evergreens since they are particularly sensitive to drought damage. Root development which takes place in the fall and early spring helps them resist dry weather the following summer. Because evergreens are planted with a ball of earth wrapped in burlap, they may be transplanted earlier in the fall than other shrubbery.

Deciduous or flowering shrubs are best transplanted when dormant. All new plantings should be watered heavily in times of severe drought. Light sprinklings do little good. Since evergreens retain their foliage they lose moisture by evaporation all winter long. During dry periods in the winter, newly transplanted evergreens should be watered when it is warm enough to avoid freezing.

In transplanting shrubs, dig far enough out from the plant to avoid too much root breakage. Dig a hole large enough to receive the roots without crowding and set the shrub in its new location as soon as possible to prevent over drying of roots.

For fall plantings mound the soil around the plant so water will drain away. This will prevent freezing and injury to the roots. Just the opposite is done in the spring when you should leave a depression around the plant to collect and hold moisture. Before the first hard freeze, cover the soil around the new shrub with a layer of dry or well rotted leaves, straw, old ground corn cobs or peat moss. This mulch or cover retards freezing of the ground and helps prevent winter drying.

All transplanted shrubs, except evergreens, must be pruned heavily to make up roots lost when moved. Usually one-third to one-half of the branches are removed. Since evergreens are moved with the ball of earth there is less root loss and therefore less need for top pruning.

Further information on planting and care of shrubbery is available in Mo. Circular No

Ike May Give Dems Charges In Boston

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower may pick a Republican ally in Boston tonight to reply to criticism of his administration by Adlai E. Stevenson and former President Truman.

Eisenhower, who returned from a Colorado vacation over the weekend, arranged an early departure by plane for Massachusetts today (8 a.m. EST). He was scheduled to arrive two hours later at Westover Air Force Base, then drive to the Eastern States Exposition ground at Springfield.

After luncheon there with Gov. Christian A. Herter, Sen. Saltonstall (R-Mass.) and other GOP leaders, the President goes to the Coliseum for a brief informal talk (about 12:30 p.m. EST). Then, it's on to Boston by plane for tonight's major address, to be nationally broadcast by the four major networks.

Eisenhower will speak at a Boston Garden rally from 8:30 to 9 p.m. (EST). Mutual Radio and ABC radio and Television scheduled the speech to be carried directly, while later rebroadcasts were arranged by NBC and CBS.

In advance of the speech, aides would say only that Eisenhower intends to outline the role he believes the Republican party should play on the American political scene.

But it seemed likely the President, in speaking at such a big party rally, would take some note of criticism fired at the administration during a Democratic get-together in Chicago last week by Truman and Stevenson, who was the 1952 Democratic presidential nominee.

Stevenson contended the administration was putting off action in fields where it had promised action — he called it "government by postponement."

Truman said a "reckless crew" was at work in Washington and that it was up to the Democrats to save America and the world from "the road to ruin."

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty has characterized the Democrats' attack as "just sound and fury."

The President passed up an opportunity to reply Saturday when he spoke briefly at a GOP women's rally in Chicago, en route from Denver to Washington after six weeks of vacation combined with work in Colorado.

At that rally, Eisenhower kept his remarks mainly non-partisan. There was only one indirect dig at the opposition. Praising Republican Sen. Dirksen of Illinois for "leadership in Congress," the President said:

"It is a true leadership, not the kind that consists of the clever word and sometimes the bad deportment."

The President got a rousing welcome at the Chicago rally.

The President is scheduled to return to Washington from Massachusetts by plane late tonight (11:45 p.m. EST).

Aides have indicated that later this week Eisenhower may announce his choice for the Supreme Court vacancy caused by the death

Door Handle Sticks In Driver's Arm As Cars Sideswipe

MUSKOGEE, Okla. (AP)—Richard C. Hardin, 29, was cruising down U.S. Highway 64 yesterday with his arm out the window.

Suddenly, his auto and another sideswiped. The door handle from the other car pierced Hardin's arm. The impact tore the handle from the door and stuck in his arm until Hardin finally stopped his car.

Trooper Gordon Schulze said a motorist stopped to aid Hardin and the injured man fell out of the car when the door was opened. The door handle dropped from his arm to the pavement.

He was hospitalized in serious condition.

of Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson. Another important government job to be filled is the secretary of labor post from which Martin P. Durkin resigned Sept. 10, charging the White House had run out on an agreement to recommend 19 changes in the Taft-Hartley Law.

Eisenhower has seven more speaking dates the next 30 days at meetings in five states and the District of Columbia.

Fall Chill Spreads East and Southward, With Some Showers

By The Associated Press

An autumnal chill which covered Central United States Sunday spread east and southward today, to western Pennsylvania, Arkansas and central Texas.

Light showers fell ahead of the moving mass of cool air. Temperatures early today ranged down to freezing in parts of North Dakota, but generally were in the 40s in the Northern Plains and in the 50s elsewhere in the Midwest, and in the West.

But in Dallas, Tex., where a record high temperature of 102 was recorded for the date Sunday, the overnight low was 77.

Dean Martins Have Their Second Son

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Mrs. Dean Martin, wife of the straight man of the Martin and Lewis team, gave birth to a 7-pound son last night.

A spokesman said mother and son were doing fine but "papa's not so good; he's worn out."

The Martins have another son, Don, 2.

Sidelights---

Being Sure Not to Die

Missouri has a new driver's responsibility law and it seems to be a good one, long needed and fine to have in force.

However, we are personally more interested in not getting hurt or killed than in being sure that the doctor, hospital or undertaker will be reimbursed for taking care of us afterwards, or in the certainty that the other fellow "is supposed" to be able to pay for our car damage.

We could have a guarantee of that sort, too, under another law that would assess definite and severe penalties for those found guilty of some of the causes of accidents.

We could have, for instance, automatic penalties for these specific infractions of the law:

For speeding, a fine of anything (money seemingly doesn't bother the speeder) plus an automatic loss of his driver's license for 30 days the first offense, six months for the second, a year for the third.

For passing on a hill, a fine plus loss of license for a year.

For driving while drinking, a fine plus a loss of license for a year, plus a non-parolable jail sentence for a second offense.

Severe penalties? Not as severe as a hospital "sentence" for the innocent victim of an accident and much less severe than the loss of a life.

Another step farther might not be amiss — to charge with manslaughter the drivers of any cars involved in fatal collisions and force the drivers to stand trial.

The average lifetime expectancy of we Americans has reached a new high. The peak we can now expect is 68.4 years. That's 22 more years than the folk of 1900 could expect and 23 more years than those of the 1850 era could anticipate.

Actually, the figures are just an average for, you see, the women can expect to reach 72.4 years and the men only 66.6 years. —C. M.

Convict Will Leave Prison. 'Chute Back In

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—Convict Barney Thurman flies over the Texas Prison walls as easily as inmates singing "The Prisoner's Song" dream about it. Then he jumps back inside—from 1,500 feet up.

He'll do it four times next month, with the warden's approval, as a stunt for the Texas Prison Rodeo. The 22nd annual show will be held each Sunday in October. As usual, all performers in what is billed as the roughest rodeo in the world will be convicts.

Thurman, 28, arrived at the prison from Kilgore, Tex., last November on a forgery rap. About a month ago he became a trusty in the prison store.

Then he sent word to prison Gen. Manager O. B. Ellis that he knows nothing about riding broncs or brahman bulls but he sure would like to stand the customers' hair on end at the rodeo by making a parachute jump into the arena.

Thurman said that besides being a former welder and baseball pitcher, he's an ex-paratrooper who has made 37 military jumps, including one at a county fair, since leaving the service.

Ellis liked the idea of the rodeo jumps. He got approval from the Civil Aeronautics Authority. Thurman signed a waiver to protect the prison system in case anything goes wrong in his weekly leaps from 1,500 feet.

Thurman made a practice jump yesterday—his first in two years. He'll make another next Sunday.

the twin daughters of Mayor and Mrs. Ashton Mouton of Lafayette, La., are now completely bottle fed and their condition "looks good."

The twins were separated last Thursday in history-making surgery.

Carolyn Anne and Catherine Anne, who will be two months old tomorrow, were given nourishment through their veins following the operation. Saturday the two babies were given formula for the first time, but also fed intra-veinously until yesterday.

Couple Is Married While On Horseback

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP) — The wedding was strictly a "horse set" affair.

Miss Doris Eileen Froff and Earl C. Enck, of nearby Ronks, exchanged vows yesterday while astride "Falen" and "Smokey," their favorite horses. They've loved horses as long as they can remember, they explained.

The best man, the matron of-honor and the bride's father also attended on horseback.

Cotton thread was used by U. S. Indians in the Southwest before the coming of the white man.
